The Fine Print:

- Down East Guide Service strives to make the international travel experience hassle free and enjoyable for our customers, but there is inherent risk when traveling. We use our best judgment and experience when booking or recommending accommodations, transportation, fishing and tours and we will deliver all services described in the package. It should be understood that foreign countries have different liability requirements than are found in the United States. If a customer is uncomfortable with a vendor or activity that is recommended or booked on your behalf, that customer must exercise their own best judgement and not participate. Confirmation of booking is consent on behalf of all parties participating that Down East Guide Service is not responsible for injuries, illness, theft of property or death while participating in international travel and activities.

Travel Insurance:

- Please consider purchasing travel insurance to cover unexpected delays, trip interruption, trip cancellation or medical emergencies. While we make every effort to work with customers when situations arise refunds are not available.
